Rising Star is going live!

After 10 years of study-at-home only, Rising Star is finally going live for the 2017 Lieutenant Exam

After 10 years of successfully preparing students for the sergeant, lieutenant, and captain exams, we finally decided to go live. This is something that has been in the works for years. We are prepared to give our students

9th. To give students ample time to enroll we will run week 1 again the week of January 16th. From here it will be one lesson a week (with appropriate breaks for holidays) until exam time. If you're not ready to

What is the Essential Guide Patrol Guide?

It's the Patrol Guide, word-for-word, except...

The Essential Guide is the Patrol Guide, word-for-word, edited to include just the duties of captains and below. We then added study tips, acronyms, breakdowns, Come see why everyone is talking about Rising Star!

Our instructors are the best in the business. We have written exams, in-baskets, have sat on exam review committee and we wrote many of the procedures that will be tested on exam day. Our average on all 3 exams (sergeant, lieutenant, and captain) is over 95%!

We have successfully fought dozens of questions on appeal for our students and have forced DCAS to make changes to their testing instructions!

We will share with you our technique and insight. Our lessons have been researched to ensure your study time is maximized! We do not use any gimmicks or unproven learning tools.

and explanations. Many of the more difficult procedures contain “Takeaway” notes, which summarizes the pertinent points of the procedure. These notes are at the end of the procedure, so it doesn’t distract the student while they are reading the guide. Additionally, the fluff (common sense statements, inapplicable steps, etc.) have been faded grey—you can still read it (and you should at least once—but don’t worry about it too much). The Essential Guide also eliminated the form numbers and bolding of Department forms so it doesn’t distract you (for example, instead of “COMPLAINT REPORT WORKSHEET (PD313-152A)” we just say “Complaint Report Worksheet”—see how much easier that is?)

In addition to the Printed Essential Guide—which comes with binder and tabs—the weekly lessons will include a further edited guide with just the duties of Lieutenants and below along with MORE notes, study tips, and breakdown.

And of course, our weekly lessons also come with our renowned exam-like questions! You will get all this, along with a breakdown of all the Legal Bureau bulletins, In-basket class, crams, and everything...we mean EVERYTHING else you could possibly need to ace this test.

You will have the option to study live or at home. You can even do both! Weekly lessons will be distributed in class for live students. Study-at-home students will get the material mailed to them, however, they can still attend class—we just ask that they bring the material with them. As always, there are no extra charges and NO hidden cost. $699 includes everything. It includes tax, shipping/handling, crams, and pop-up products/classes we introduce mid-prep...whatever it is, it is included!

Week 1 will run from Jan. 9-20 (extra time to enroll to see if we are right for you). Week 2 starts the week of Jan. 23
